Dedication in Memory of Mr. Alden

His was not a hero's role,
Midst the din of gunfire's roar;
His was but a simple goal,
To live, to love, to teach . . . No more.

No blare of trumpets on this earth,
Symbolic of his greatness here
No worldly fanfare to show his worth,
Or to loudly cry his name so clear.

He worked, and played, and taught, and guided;
Untiring, unselfish, with understanding;
His best he gave and with all divided
His knowledge and learning, your respect demanding.

His passing on to a greater height
Is but the final step toward his reward;
The recognition of his worth and might,
By the Great Principal, The Lord.

Youth forgets sadness and thinks of the pleasant,
Though time is fleeting in life's span;
But we, all his pupils past and present,
Dedicate this book to Mr. Alden, The Man.

HEADMASTER

For the past twelve years, we, your teachers, have striven sincerely to direct you through fields of useful knowledge, to instruct you in sound principles, and to develop in you the attitudes and traits consistent with the heritage that has made American people great.

You are now about to emerge into a world that will be more demanding in responsibility, independence of thought and action, and productiveness. Many of you will be leaders; others will be followers. Whatever your lot may be, if you dedicate yourself to purposeful and conscientious effort, if you are honest with yourself, loyal to your country, and faithful to your church then I'm sure that you will live a full life, rich in happiness.

With great pride we introduce our School Council. The School Council is composed of twelve members —

Miss Julia M. Gibbons, Faculty Advisor

One of the most important projects assumed by the School Council during the year is the annual Talent Show which is presented each year for the purpose of raising money with which to pay for worthwhile assembly projects.

This year a most successful Spring Convention of the Eastern Division of Massachusetts Student Councils was held here at the Everett Senior High School on Saturday, April 7.

Needless to say, the School Council of nineteen fifty-one has afforded us meritorious service which could not have been realized without the invaluable guidance and assistance of Mr. Bleiler, Submaster, and Miss Gibbons. We, the Class of 1951, extend our appreciation to these eminent representatives of the student body and their advisors.

Senior Class History

With our heads held high and our best foot forward we, the Class of 1951, entered our Freshman year in the Albert N. Parlin Junior High School. Determination to perform praiseworthy deeds was foremost in our minds. Those selected to lead us were Charles Landry, Audrey Colameta, Joan Kenison, and George Snow. Realizing that a well-balanced life is essential to success, many classmates supplemented their scholastic interests with extra-curricular activities. Consequently, we laid a strong foundation in an appreciation of athletics, debating, dramatics, and music. Throughout the year many fine assemblies were presented, a frequent source of enjoyment to the faculty and student body. On the lighter side we shall always remember such events as the gay socials, the mirthful scenes in the cafeteria, and the domination of the Traffic Squad. The zenith of our achievements was reached when eighteen members of our Class, outstanding in scholarship, athletics, and citizenship, received the distinguished Parlin "P" Award.

At the beginning of our Sophomore year confusion reigned supreme, but we finally managed to overcome the difficulties arising from the traditional elevator hoax and the enigmatic system of room numbers. The election that year resulted in the following class officers: Charles Landry, Audrey Colameta, Janet Watson, and Audrey Kerr. At the same time, Joan Kenison, Cynthia Normine, and Barbara Serafini were elected as our representatives to the School Council. For the most part, the year was spent in adapting ourselves to the existing conditions, and working diligently at our studies. By emulating the pattern of the illustrious upper classmen, we, the Class of 1951, were beginning to make an impressive name in the annals of Everett High School.

As Juniors, we were guided by the capable leadership of President Charles Landry, Vice President Audrey Colameta, Secretary Janet Watson, Treasurer Audrey Kerr, and the School Council members, Barbara Serafini, Robert Caprio, Robert Cook, and Richard Laskey. In this very important year we established ourselves as a vital part of the life of Everett High School.

Junior Achievement was the newest and most popular club that year. Do you remember hand-made bookmarks, germicide, the Crimson Tide, and oh, so many products which made their appearance on Everett High School's market? The supervision of the officers and the Junior Prom committee created an event of unforgettable success — the Junior Prom. Thus our Junior year ended, and we were carried one step further toward our ultimate goal — graduation.

In the light of the national emergency — the critical situation in Korea — many of our classmates were required to leave us in our Senior year. It seemed now that we were face to face with the adult world.

Class activity, however, continued. Our officers in this, our most important year, were Frank Guiliano, Audrey Colameta, Janet Watson and Audrey Kerr. Representatives to the School Council were as follows: Barbara Serafini, Robert Caprio, Robert Cook, George Snow, and Donald Whitehouse.

Many fine assemblies were presented throughout the year. "The Howards of Virginia," a historical movie depicting the spirit of the American Revolution; the superb talk and film concerning lighthouses on the Atlantic Coast by Mr. Edward Rowe Snow; the outstanding Boston College Prize Debate; and Variety Time, the spectacular talent show put on by the students, will long be remembered.

"You Can't Take It With You," our Senior Class play, through the splendid efforts of Mr. William Richmond, the director, proved to be a sparkling success. Some other memorable productions in which members of our class participated were "Our Town," "The Yeoman of the Guard," Italian Night, and the Talent Show.

The highlight of our Senior year was the much heralded Senior Prom. The gymnasium, decorated in the colorful rainbow hues which complemented the array of beautiful colors in the gowns, produced a breathtaking spectacle.

"TAKE NOTE, TAKE NOTE, OH, WORLD" . . .

The experiences which we have had at Everett High School are indicative of happy and successful years. Let this be prophetic of our future.

"Alma Mater"

When the twilight shadows gather
 Out upon our campus green,
 And the blue and purple night
 Comes stealing on the scene,
 Loyal sons of Everett High School,
 Sing this hymn of praise
 To your dear old Everett High School
 And your high school days.

Everett High School, Everett High School,
 When we leave thy sheltering walls,
 We shall leave an echo ringing,
 Ringing in the silent night,
 While our memories recall thee,
 Recall thee and all thy might.

When the last big game is over,
 And the last roll call is heard,
 When the oldest Pedagogue
 Has had His final word,
 We shall come to Everett High School
 In our dreams again
 With a prayer for Alma Mater
 And a sweet Amen.

Junior Class History

The Graduating Class of 1952 began its' notable career in the Parlin Junior High School, in the Fall of 1948.

As the Senior Class at the Parlin, it immediately assumed its responsibilities under the leadership of Class President, Sheldon Gardner; Vice-President, Doris Ciampa; Secretary, Donald Coburn; and Treasurer, Nancy de Sopha.

Highlight of a supremely successful year came on Parlin Day, when the Parlin "P" was proudly accepted by sixteen of our most deserving members.

September of '49 brought a long-awaited moment to the class entrance into the Everett High School. After the initial confusion had cleared, we selected Sheldon Gardner, President; Doris Powers, Vice-President; Jane Collins, Secretary; and Joan Sparks, Treasurer. Meanwhile, Carol Alden, Audrey McCarthy, and James Caccivio represented the class in the Student Council, and Sophomore faces were being increasingly found in all phases of School Activities.

In the spring, we were proud to present the "Sophomore Hop" the first such dance sponsored by Sophomores in twenty-five years.

We returned as Juniors in 1950 full of new confidence and ambition. Now an integral part of the school, the participation of the Juniors in all activities was an important factor in the success of many productions.

Our leaders were Maureen O'Keefe as President; Doris Powers, Vice-President; Jane Collins, Secretary; and Joan Sparks, Treasurer. Carol Alden, James Caccivio, James O'Keefe, and Paul Mastrocola filled the Junior seats in the Student Council.

The list of Honor Students includes the following: Jacquelyn Cordeira, Doris Di Tullio, Nancy Le Pore, Philip Oliviero, Jean Price, Allan Seltzer, Arthur Warner, Rita D'Orlando, Brenda Duncan, Sheldon Gardner, Anita Glenn, Sylvia Einbinder, Dorothy Kaufman, Daniel McDermott, Jr., Carol O'Neil, Doris Ruskin, Josephine Circo, Marie Moscaritolo, Edith Spinney, Elaine Barbuto, Louette Danner, June Erickson, Mary Gallant, Lorraine Pomer, Paul Richmond, Marie Solari, Evelyn Sullivan, Barbara Turner, Florence Mathias, Frances McShane.

Outstanding figures on the football field were Richard Rossetti, Robert McLean, and James Higgins, who was later elected to Captain of the team next year.

In basketball, Gerry MacDonald, Robert Johnston, and William Brownlie, contributed to the team's success.

Participating in the Annual Boston College Debate were Sheldon Gardner, Summer Katz and Roger Dribben. Roger Dribben brought further honor to the Junior Class when he was awarded the Boston College Medal as best speaker.

Plans are now being made for our Junior Prom, an event long awaited by the class.

Elinor Comeau represented the Junior Class in the 1951 Memories.

On Friday evening, December 8, 1950, the Senior Class Play "You Can't Take It With You" was riotously performed under the direction of Mr. Richmond.

This play revolves around an eccentric family, the Sycamores. Alice, the one sensible member of the family, falls in love with her young boss, Tony Kirby. Her romance is almost tragically ended when Tony's rich, upright parents arrive for a party on the wrong night. After a series of misfortunes, however, Alice and Tony are reunited, and all ends happily.

The success of this play is a result of the fine teamwork of the cast, the backstage crew, Mr. Richmond, and the invaluable assistance of Miss Cotter.

"Speak boldly and speak truly . . ."

The Welfare State, an important national issue, was the subject for argument at the Boston College Club prize debate on February 28, 1951. This event was the twenty-second in an annual series initiated by Attorney Walter Morris. Upholding the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved: That the American People Should Reject the Welfare State," were Sumner Katz and Sheldon Gardner; while Roger Driben and Louis Petroni voiced the negative opinions. The negative team was awarded the decision; and Roger Driben, as the best speaker, received the Boston College Club gold medal.

Throughout the year, debates were held with other schools on the same question. The opposition were representatives of Revere High School, Waltham High School, and Brown and Nichols.

Lyceum members participated in outside speaking contests as well. Sidney Poger took part in the American Legion contest in March, while Sheldon Gardner and Sumner Katz represented Everett High School at the Boston University Debating Tournament. A little later, Roger Driben, Sheldon Gardner, Sumner Katz, and Louis Petroni appeared in the Suffolk University Tournament.

Several contributions were made to various school assemblies by members of the Lyceum. In November, Robert Stewart spoke at the Armistice Day gathering. Later in the month, Roger Driben presented a speech on the origin of Thanksgiving. At the Christmas assembly Robert Cook, James Beats, Robert Stewart, and Ray Roberts recited a short article on "Peace."

The Everett High School Lyceum, the oldest consecutively organized debating society in Massachusetts, was ably directed this year by Mr. Mahan.

Dramatic Club

"THE PLAY'S THE THING"

The Dramatic Club, under the direction of Mr. McLaughlin, has made great strides toward both of its goals—improving the members' personalities and furthering the students' appreciation of the dramatic art. Through the use of a recording machine, each pupil is made cognizant of his own speech defects, and he can correct them. A variety show, to be presented in the form of a radio program, was also recorded for the benefit of the students. Along with the active parts taken by the members, a great deal of time was spent in constructive listening while Mr. McLaughlin lectured on stage technique, construction, and presence.

The most important occasion on the Dramatic Club roster, Drama Night, was held on January 26, 1951. Tackling the very difficult "Our Town", the cast presented a finished and thoroughly enjoyable performance.

In addition to these accomplishments, the club spent many enjoyable hours in theatre parties. The outings proved to be both instructive and pleasurable.

The continuance of these activities could only establish the Club's reputation more firmly. The Dramatic Club is certainly a group of which the Everett High School students can be proud. However, the Club could never have accomplished so much this year without the able assistance and direction of Mr. McLaughlin.

Second Row: BELMONTE, COVINO, CHAPMAN, CURRIE, COHEN, COURTNEY, FULTON.

"Who hath a book has friends at hand...."

The poet who wrote this must have had the Library Staff in mind when he took his illustrious pen in hand. For this group, directed by Miss Gindele, creates the friendly business of running a modern school library where the tops in books for reference and pleasure reading are obtainable.

Each member of the Staff devotes one period a week to library work. The Sophomore members spend this time mending books; the Juniors shelve books; and the Seniors perform the desk duties.

The annual Book Fair, featuring the sale of second-hand books and periodicals, was held in November. This year, as in preceding years, the Fair proved to be a great success.

Functioning also as a club, the Library Staff has enjoyed many social hours together by attending plays, concerts, or anything else that catches their fancy.

Thus, the staff secures cultural and practical advantages which afford much pleasure to the members. The Library Staff offers the individual the satisfaction of being useful while enjoying herself. This is indeed a very profitable experience.

OFFICERS: Rose Derderian, President; Marilyn Hultberg, Vice-President; Dorothy Shapiro, Secretary; Ann Monahan, Treasurer.

The Gilbert and Sullivan Operetta Club

The Gilbert and Sullivan Operetta Club is by far the largest club in the school, having over 175 members. Sixteen seasons of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas, the most ever presented by any high school in the state, have made the annual Gilbert and Sullivan Show a tradition at Everett High.

All who have come in contact with Gilbert and Sullivan know the magic of these shows. They are timeless in their freshness, and it is for this reason that the Club has become so successful. The tradition behind the presentation of these shows is closely adhered to, and the results are always delightful. Notwithstanding the great financial responsibilities in connection with the production of these operas, the club has always managed to be successful.

Founded in 1935 by Mr. Ottavio J. De Vivo, the Gilbert and Sullivan Club has presented the following operettas: "MIKADO," "PINAFIRE," "PIRATES OF PENZANCE," "GONDOLIERS," "ICLANTHE," "PATIENCE," "TRIAL BY JURY," and "THE YEOMEN OF THE GUARD."

In addition to the annual show, the Gilbert and Sullivan Club had presented assembly programs, Christmas presentations at school, and at the Kiwanis Club, a concert for Parents' Night, and has entertained the delegates at the Student Council Convention held at Everett High School.

In this year's production of "THE YEOMEN OF THE GUARD" the following seniors took leading roles: Al Mersereau, as Jack Point; Ronald Martin, as the Sergeant; Alan Potter, as Wilfred the Jailor; Arthur Stamler, as the first Yeoman; Norman Lombardi, as the second Yeoman; Fred Pellerin, as Colonel Fairfax; Jayne Sands, as Elsie; Barbara Serafini, as Dame Carruthers.

Shirley Packham, Evelyn Fulton, Ann Vuolo, and Norma Caputo, were the senior members of the orchestra.

The officers of the club are as follows: Ann Vuolo, President and piano accompanist; Fred Pellerin, Vice President; Barbara Serafini, Secretary-Treasurer.

Italian Club

First Row: SABATO, FERRARO, SERAFINI, DeDOMINICIS, MASSARO, MR. DeRUBEIS, GIULIANO, IOSUE, CIRCO, OBERY, BROGNA. Second Row: GREELY, CAPPELLUZZO, DeMUZIO, VITOLO, DiLORETO, MAZZONI, FANTASIA, LEFFLER, MARSCORITOLLO, PRICE, PENNO, DeVITO, PARZIALE, BUCCELLA. Third Row: UNGARO, FONZI, GRANDE, BORRIELLO, GIGGI, DOTOLI, MANSOLILLI, PACE, DISCULLO, LOMBARDI, LUCIANO.

The Italian Club was started in 1937, the year Italian was introduced in the Everett High School. Its objective is to complement Italian Classes.

In November, a Parents' Night was held in the suite of rooms. Skits in Italian were presented by members of the club, and a full length film feature in Italian, "Don Bosco," was shown; the parents were treated to a fine collation.

In April the annual Italian Night was held at the Rockwood Auditorium, with four hundred relatives and friends present. The program was divided into two parts, musical and dramatic. Talented Ann Vuolo entertained with piano selections. Gilda Buccella sang some lovely Italian arias. Norman Lombardi and the chorus presented modern and folk Italian songs.

The cast of "Il Digiuno e la Vita" included Angela Mazzoni, Antonio Pace, Claire De Vito, Richard Fonzi, Maria Mascoritolo. Barbara Serafini, Ronald Massaro, Emma Cappelluzzo, Frank Nigro, John Luciano, and Madeline Obery delighted the audience in their presentation of "Agenore l'indeciso."

The club held a banquet in May. The officers of the club are Frank Giuliano, President; Ronald Massaro, Vice President; Josephine Circo, Treasurer; and Norman Lombardi, Secretary.

Mr. Victor De Rubeis is the faculty adviser.

Cheer Leaders

LUCCI, GLENN, FLETCHER, ANDERSON, CHAPMAN, TERRIO, TOBIN, OBERY, SOMERVILLE, BREault.

This year's cheer leaders, under the leadership of Mona Somerville and Marion Breault, did a colorful job at the football and basketball games. They represented a cross section of the student body. The cheer leaders conducted themselves in a dignified manner.

New uniforms were introduced at the first football game of the season. These were the creation of the cheer leaders. This "new look" did much to give new life and enthusiasm to the many new cheers this season.

The senior members of the cheering squad are as follows:

Mona Somerville
Mary Lucci
Barbara Tobin
Barbara Glenn
Pamela Chapman
Marion Breault

The Everett Senior High School Band has taken its place as one of the best school bands in Massachusetts. The Band numbers over sixty-five players plus its complement of eleven majorettes, flag bearers, color guards, and cheer leaders. With the exception of the lower reeds, it has a full instrumentation and it is capable of performing the standard works for band, both classical and modern.

The Band each year participates in the Massachusetts Music Festival, where it competes with the best bands in the state.

Besides its activities at parades and football games, the Everett High Band has given numerous concerts in connection with school and community functions. Because of instructions received through band practice, many of the members are playing in dance orchestras or entering army bands, where they are doing work of professional caliber.

The warm feeling which the music creates at all school functions is indicative of the value of the Band and the high esteem which the students of Everett High accord to this outstanding musical organization.

The Band will miss the following seniors next year: Arthur Stamler, student leader; Alan Potter, student leader and manager; Al Mersereau, Shirley Packham, Robert Harris, Fred Arthur, Evelyn Fulton, Norma Capuano, Donald Young, Janet Ernst, Albert Taylor, George Fennell, Barbara Serafini.

Upon its final appearance at Class Day, the Everett High School Orchestra will bring to a close one of the most successful seasons in its history.

The orchestra has supplied the musical portion of many assemblies and also has played at the Senior Class Play, Drama Night, and other extra-curricula activities.

On these occasions the well-balanced repertoire has exacted much praise from the faculty, students, and visitors to the school. Practice and more practice is the key to the orchestra's success. Team work and an appreciation of one another's efforts have enabled the members of the Orchestra to perform at their best.

Four members of the Everett High School Orchestra played in the All-State Orchestra, which gave a concert at the Massachusetts Music Educators Convention in Worcester.

It is with great pride and esteem that we pay tribute to the Everett High School Orchestra.

Conservation Club

First Row: GAROFANO, OPPIDDO, OBERY, SABELLA, SAMPSON, HIGGINS, COVINO. Second Row: VAUGHN, BORRASSO, CIOFFI, MARTUCCI, SCIOLA, CONNOLLY, GUGLIOTTI, CROTEAU, MISS NOLAND.

Since its formation in 1932, the Conservation Club always has been under the able direction of Miss Margaret M. Noland. The chief purpose of this club is to train the eye to catch what the ear may have missed. Its secondary purpose is to familiarize the general public with a few facts about the conservation of one's own hearing.

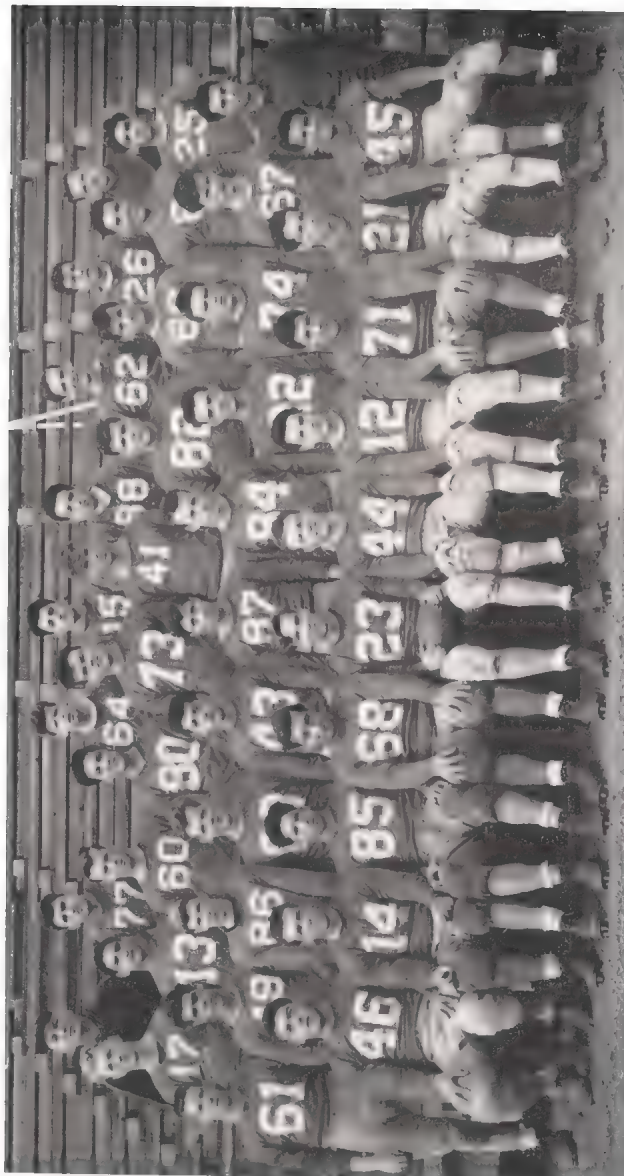

Instead of the usual classroom, the members gather around a table to discuss their mutual problems. Here, the time is spent chiefly in learning to read lips. By the use of special textbooks, the class practices the recognition of the formation of certain words by the mouth and the distinguishment of words which look alike when pronounced.

The members of this fine organization have shown their interest and enthusiasm by their active participation and excellent attendance. All projects undertaken by them were successful.

Football Team

While Father Time was cutting the twentieth century schedule in halves, by a strange coincidence the 1950 football team split its schedule with five wins, five losses, and a tie.

Our Crimson eleven was considerably stronger than the record indicates. The fact that captain Frank Guiliano, Barry Gildea, Harry DeAngelis, Stanley LeFave, and Louis Simonelli were chosen to play on the Suburban All-Star football team in Salem on December 3, 1950, adds substantial strength to the statement.

An actual picture of the strength of the team can be revealed by a brief review of the season. We opened against the State Champion, Weymouth, a terrific assignment. Sixteen points were chalked up by the enemy before we gathered our forces. The second half was a truer gauge of the merits of the two teams. Everett scored once and lost two other scores through penalties, while Weymouth scored on a sixty yard breakaway run. Although Weymouth dominated the first half, Everett ruled the second half. The final score was 22-6.

Our next opponent, Somerville, defeated us by a score of 27-6.

The initial victory of the season, 26-14 over Salem, sparked our warriors. Lynn Classical set the team back 20-0 at Manning Bowl, but the two following victories, over Medford 18-0 and Malden Catholic 32-0, more than evened matters.

The crucial Malden game, another defeat 7-6, was a heartbreaker for the Crimson led 6-0 up to the final two minutes.

Brockton, always a headliner, was lucky to return to their Shoe City with a 13-13 deadlock. On Thanksgiving Day we met our traditional rival, Chelsea, and defeated them by a score of 29-0.

Our class well may be proud of the 1950 Crimson, a team that was at the top in courage and sportsmanship.

Basketball Team

First Row: MacDONALD, BROWNLIE, WHITEHOUSE, ARTHUR, RICCIARDI, SEWARD, McCARTHY.
Second Row: MR. PUTNAM, HILL, SHAW, DeVIVO, McLEAN, JOHNSTONE, MR. DIGIACOMO.

To open the 1951 basketball season, Everett won a brilliant victory over Revere by a 20 point margin. Fred Arthur was high scorer in this game with seventeen points to his credit. The next win was over a strong Malden quintet, which tried persistently to turn the Crimson tide but went down to defeat by six points. Chelsea was the next victim of an inspired Everett team. In the two games with Lowell, the honors were divided with one win for each team. Everett was unsuccessful against Medford, Quincy and Somerville teams, the last two of which qualified for the Tech Tourney.

Donald Whitehouse was high scorer for the season, ending with a total of 131 points. Fred Arthur was a close second with a total of 129 points. Walter Seward honored Everett by being chosen as a forward of the Greater Boston League.

Because the bleachers at the high school were condemned as unsafe, all home games were played at the Everett Recreation Center.

Although the team did not win all of the games, Mr. Putnam did win the affection of his boys for his leadership and his building of the things that are of enduring value, such as sportsmanship and character.

The members of the 1951 basketball team are as follows: Frederick Arthur, Gerald MacDonald, Richard Hill, Arthur McCarthy, Rocco Ricciardi, Walter Seward, Donald Whitehouse, William Brownlie, Robert Shaw, Robert Johnstone, Robert McLean.

The results of the games were as follows:

Everett	56	—	Revere	26	Everett	64	—	Revere	30
Everett	41	—	Quincy	50	Everett	33	—	Quincy	55
Everett	51	—	Malden	45	Everett	57	—	Malden	30

Won 7 — Lost 7

Track Team

First Row: McLEAN, JOHNSTONE, GIORDANO, CAFASSO, PEARSON.
Second Row: FINNEGAN, COLFORD, WARNER, MR. HICKEY, WHITEHOUSE, ROBERTS, MOVITZ.

The outlook for an outstanding track season at this time is not too promising.

The graduation of such great stars as Bobby Hill, 100 yard State Champion, and Richie Campagnoni, a great half-miler, left two pairs of shoes hard to fill. Last fall when Uncle Sam took Co-Captain Bob Lucien into active service, another sure five point getter was lost.

The returning letter men are Co-Captain Giordano, a shot putter of promise; sprinters Robert Johnstone and Dick Proudly; quarter-miler "Record" McLean; and half-milers "Red" O'Keefe, Joe Finnegan, and Jackie Kavanaugh.

The schedule for 1951 is as follows:

May	1	—	Revere at Everett
"	5	—	University of Massachusetts at Amherst
"	8	—	Lynn Classical High School at Lynn
"	12	—	Massachusetts State Relays at Belmont
"	17	—	Chelsea at Everett
"	26	—	State Meet at Newton

Baseball

First Row: PARSONS, GILDEA, MAZZIE, RAGUCCI, SWEENEY, KITCHEN, CARMONICA, DAVIS. Second Row: GUNDERSON, TEMPLE, CAPTAIN IANDOLO, SEWARD, DeANGELO, CAFASSO, ROBINSON, GREEN, NAPOLITANO, MR. DRAGONE.

The 1951 season will mark the first time since 1935 that an Everett High baseball team has played in its own stadium.

As the season begins, Coach Dragone predicts that he will have a strong pitching staff; but how the team itself will do depends on the necessary replacements he can find to take the place of the men who have graduated.

Walter Seward is our ace pitcher. Last year, he made the Hearst "All Star" team that played in the Yankee Stadium. Ed Kitchen, who last year showed signs of making the grade, Ron Gunderson, Carmen Frederico, and Lawrence Mazzie are other candidates for the pitching staff.

On the receiving end, we have Mel Ragucci, a senior, and Robert Knowlton, a junior. At first base the only returning letterman is Lawrence Vozella.

Other infielders are Barry Gildea, William Caramanica, Roy Temple, and Basil Napolitano. Captain Vincent Iandolo will hold down the short stop position. Vincent had a great year last season, batting well over 400.

Sal DeAngelo is the only veteran in the outfield.

The team has shown good spirit and ability, and with the untried sophomores coming up, it should give a good account of itself in the league.

April 18 Revere	May 11 at Revere
April 20 at Quincy	May 16 Quincy
April 25 at Malden	May 18 Malden
April 27 Medford	May 23 at Medford
May 2 at Chelsea	May 25 Chelsea
May 4 Somerville	May 29 at Somerville
May 9 Lowell	June 1 at Lowell

Majorettes

PAGNINI, SARTINI, CANDEROZZI, OBERY, RICCI.

The majorettes are an integral part of the band. These high-stepping girls add zest to the parades and at football games. Dressed in natty crimson skirts and blue Eisenhower jackets with over-seas hats, they cut quite a figure.

The senior members of the majorettes group are:

Lona Pagnini
 Madeline Obery
 Jacqueline Butler
 Marianne Ricci
